

Statement delivered by the Delegation of Burundi to the United Nations, at the United Nations General Assembly Thematic Panel Discussion "From commitment to implementation: Ten years of the Responsibility to Protect," convened by the President of the General Assembly [Unofficial Transcription]

25 February 2016

Burundi fully supports the principle of Responsibility to Protect, but this is a principle that must be in line with the sacred principles of the UN Charter to be sure that these principles are not abused. We support this principle at the only condition that the UN Charter be respected as well as international humanitarian law.